Hack4Health

ABOUT HACK4HEALTH

- Hack4Health is an interdisciplinary medical hackathon conducted by B.J. Medical College and COEP Technological University.
- It is a part of “Respirare”, an International Conference held annually at B.J. Medical College, which is organised by the undergraduate students of the college.
- Over the course of 48 hours, students from medical and engineering backgrounds work on problem statements focusing on software or hardware solutions for challenges faced in the medical field across various domains.

HACK4HEALTH 2025

- 50 offline participants from all over Maharashtra belonging to different medical and engineering colleges attended the first edition of Hack4Health 2025.
- Participants worked on nine problems statements across diverse medical domains such as Prosthetics, Critical Care Medicine, Maxillofacial Surgery, Skin carcinoma, Anaesthesiology and Otorhinolaryngology.
- More than two-thirds of our participants were first-time medical hackathon attendees, thereby providing them with a unique and enriching learning experience.

WHY PARTICIPATE IN HACK4HEALTH?

Participants get:

- Constant mentorship from experts.
- Opportunities to network and build meaningful connections with fellow participants, mentors and experts.
- A platform which empowers students to solve real clinical problems with innovative, technology-driven solutions.
- Exposure to interdisciplinary collaboration between medicine and engineering.

RESPIRARE 2026

Hack4Health

WHAT DOES THE PARTICIPATION FEE INCLUDE?

Participants will receive:

- Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner.
- Coffee/refreshments.
- Hack4Health T-shirt with name.
- Participant ID card.
- Hackathon kit, including: Folder, Badge, Pen & Notepad
- Participants who choose the accommodation package enjoy 24/7 access to their rooms, including a comfortable 2 night stay.

Hotel link - Laxminarayan Niwas, Pune

THE EVENT FLOW

Team Formation → Problem Statements → Ideation →
Mentorship → Prototype Development → Final Pitch →
Evaluation → Prize Distribution.

EXPERT JURY AND FINAL PITCH

- The final stage of Hack4Health gives participants the opportunity to present their solutions to an expert jury.
- The jury will consist of eminent doctors, engineers and industrial experts.
- Teams will pitch their proposed solutions along with relevant CAD models and PoC prototypes, demonstrating the feasibility and potential application of their ideas.
- The jury will evaluate the teams' solutions based on novelty, effort and value as part of the final pitch and determine the winning teams.

Debate Competition

1. Participation and Round Structure

Individual entries will be accepted for the elimination round.

ROUND I — ELIMINATION: Individual 1 vs 1 debate (FOR AND AGAINST)

ROUND II — GRAND FINALE: Top 8 participants (FOR and AGAINST).

Both rounds will take place on the same day, subject to the event schedule.

2. Allotment of Sides

The organisers will assign participants FOR or AGAINST the motion, which may be done randomly.

Elimination-round side allocations and topic will be disclosed two days before the event.

3. ROUND I — INDIVIDUAL 1 VS 1

Participants will argue FOR or AGAINST this motion, which will be conveyed 2 days before the debate

OPENING ARGUMENT: Each participant has 2 minutes to present an argument with relevant examples or evidence.

REBUTTAL: Following the initial arguments, each participant has 1 minute to answer any questions or the opposing argument. Questions may be asked by judges or the participants.

QUALIFICATION: The judging panel will select the top 8 participants to advance to the Grand Finale.

4. REBUTTAL RULES

A rebuttal must address a point actually made by the opposing side; repetition of one's opening argument is not a rebuttal.

Participants may identify logical gaps, unsupported assumptions, weak evidence, relevant counterexamples or alternative interpretations. Critique arguments, not speakers. Personal remarks are not permitted.

RESPIRARE 2026

Debate Competition

5. ROUND II — FINAL-ROUND

TOPIC — MEDICAL ETHICS

Participants will be allotted a topic related to medical ethics and a motion (for or against) by chit picking. There will be 4 topics for the 8 participants.

Each speaker will have 20 minutes to prepare, WITHOUT the use of a mobile phone or the internet.

SPEAKING FORMAT

Each speaker will get 2 mins 30 secs to present their side. A time of 1 min will be provided for rebuttals and questions.

6. FINAL-ROUND INSTRUCTIONS

Listen actively and note specific opposing arguments to address in the final rebuttal.

AI tools, unauthorised online assistance and communication with people outside the designated preparation area are not permitted during on-the-spot preparation or the final debate.

Detailed on-site instructions will be provided by the organising committee.
